

GOVERNOR AND BLUES TO BE MUCH ENTERTAINED

Accept Invitation to Be Guests of Virginia Society of Oakland.

AINSLIE TELEGRAPHS MAYORS

Invitations Have Been Received From St. Louis, Chicago, Denver, Ogden and Other Cities—Western Mayors to Review Blues.

Captain W. V. Baker, chairman of the Virginia Commission to the Panama-Pacific Exposition, has written from San Francisco to Alexander Forward, secretary of the commission, advising him of arrangements made by the Virginia Society of Oakland, Cal., for the reception of Governor Stuart and his staff and officers of the Blues Battalion on the arrival of the Virginia party in that city en route to the exposition.

A committee from the Virginia Society will meet the Governor's party on their arrival in Oakland and escort them to a hotel, where a reception and luncheon will be given in honor of the visitors.

The general committee on arrangements for the San Francisco trip met yesterday and decided to accept the invitation extended by the Society of St. Louis. The Virginia party will be the guests of that society during their stay of seven hours in St. Louis. The Blues will parade through the streets, and a dinner will be served at a pleasure park. The celebration will conclude with a public reception at one of the large hotels.

Commercial organizations in various cities at which the special train carrying Governor Stuart, his staff and the Richmond Light Infantry Blues en route to San Francisco, have written the Chamber of Commerce of Richmond, advising that they desire to provide suitable programs for the entertainment of the Virginians. Each asked for full particulars regarding the time of the scheduled stops, the number of persons in the party, and other details.

W. T. Dabney, business manager of the Chamber of Commerce, who will accompany the Governor's party as the representative of the commercial interests of Richmond, yesterday said that the requests had been fully complied with and that all information desired had been forwarded at once. The publicity given these invitations through the West will probably lead to invitations from additional cities, including points where the stops will be brief and where nothing more than mere exchange of courtesies will be possible.

MAYORS OF WESTERN CITIES

Up to yesterday afternoon the Chambers of Commerce in St. Louis, Chicago, Denver, Ogden, Utah; Los Angeles and Kansas City, have advised that they were anxious to arrange for the entertainment of Governor Stuart and his military escort while in their respective cities.

Mayor George Ainslie yesterday telegraphed to the Mayors of St. Louis, Kansas City, Salt Lake City, Denver and Ogden, Utah, as follows:

"The Governor of Virginia and his staff, escorted by the Richmond Light Infantry Blues Battalion, en route to San Francisco, will arrive in your city (giving time of arrival and departure in each instance). The Blues ask the honor of passing in review before you. The review can be arranged so as not to conflict with program of your business organizations."

The closest calculation as to the amount of customs for the year was made seven months ago by A. J. Peters, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, in charge of customs, who figured on $218,000,000.

Mr. Thomas will co-operate with a view to expediting supplies.

"Speaking of German preparation, the minister said: "Until she was ready she was friendly with everybody. During the Balkan wars she could have been more modest or unpretentious. She had a benevolent smile for France. She walked arm in arm with Great Britain through the chancelleries of Europe. We really thought an era of peace and good will had come. At that moment she was forging and hiding away enormous war stores to attack her neighbors unaware and murder them in their sleep."

PUNISHMENT OF GERMANY

ESSENTIAL TO WORLD PEACE "If that trickery is to succeed, all the bases of international good will crumble to dust. It is essential to the peace of the world that it should fail, and it is up to us to see that it does so. It depends more on Great Britain than any one else to see that it fails."

"One of the pillars of good government is that evil doing shall be punished; that is equally true in the sphere of international government. Valor alone will not achieve success, or the valor of our brave men at the front would have achieved it long ago. We must strain every resource of the machinery of organization at our disposal, so as to drive conviction into the heart of every nation over the whole world that those governments who deceive their neighbors to their ruin, do so at their peril."

The minister's peroration was greeted with loud and prolonged applause. The minister, in winding up the debate on the bill, said he would hold himself responsible for the supply of ammunition at the front, and would make himself thoroughly acquainted with what was going on there.

Lloyd George, continuing, said he was sure that Lord Kitchener would agree that the Minister of Munitions should have a free hand. He hoped that the bill would be printed by Friday, when the members could read it, and that it would see that it satisfactorily disposed of most of the criticisms.

The bill passed its first reading; it will receive its second reading on Monday.

Guaymas had sent a military train with 200 troops into the Yaqui Valley to bring out a railway construction party in which there were two Americans and sixteen Mexicans. In the statement given out by the Navy Department covering Admiral Howard's telegram, this appears:

"The latest reports received mentioned fighting on June 20 between the Indians and an escort of eighty soldiers and a work train, in which twenty-four soldiers were killed, eight were wounded and twenty-two were missing. The losses of the Indians are unknown. Beyond Torm telegraphic communications are interrupted."

The latest reports say that there are now about fifty-eight Americans who need protection. Others have apparently left the valley for the coast. Originally there were about 100 in danger.

THOUSANDS IN MEXICO CITY ARE BEGGING FOR FOOD

Red Cross telegrams from Mexico City say that thousands are begging for food there and are flocking about the station for food. The price of corn and beans has increased 500 per cent. It is stated that the whole city would arrive at the starvation point if there should be even a week's cessation of supplies. Conditions in Durango are reported by the Red Cross to be better than in any other Northern state, but they are still "very distressing." It is said that although Americans have laid in stores of supplies, when famine begins to press the mob, the houses and property of the Americans will be searched, and the military authorities have not "the inclination to prevent" this. Conditions in Lagonia and Torm are also bad.

SONORA STATE TROOPS ARE EN ROUTE TO RESCUE

WASHINGTON, June 23.—In a wireless message to the Navy Department to-night, Admiral Howard said he had been informed that a relief train had passed through the Yaqui Valley, carrying Sonora state troops to Esparanza to protect foreign settlers threatened by Indians.

DRESS CATCHES FIRE

Miss Schwartz Burned in Attempting to Light Gun Stove.

The condition of Miss Hazel M. Schwartz, 1252 West Cary Street, who was severely burned about the body when her waist became ignited as she was lighting a gas stove in her room, is reported as improved at the Shattuck Hospital to-day. She is expected to recover.

Miss Schwartz rushed from her room into the street when she found she was unable to extinguish the flames. Her screams attracted the attention of Harris R. Davenport, of Gordonsville, who was visiting in the neighborhood, and he succeeded in putting out the fire. Physicians advised her removal to the hospital yesterday.

Senatorial Candidates to Speak.

Candidates for office in the Democratic primary of August 3 have been invited to address a meeting at the County Demonstration Farm in James City County, not far from Williamsburg, on Saturday.

Among the speakers will be Julian Gorman and Walker Ware, both offering for a seat in the Senate. Mr. Gorman represented Henrico County in the House of Delegates and was for several years Commonwealth's attorney. He has law offices in this city. Walker Ware at this time is sheriff of James City County.

eyes, steady in their gaze, eyes with a fixed purpose that burn with the fire of hope. In his answers to Stanchfield's questions, his voice was well modulated, his manner calm, his thoughts apparently working under perfect control. The marked feature of Thaw's whole demeanor on the stand was that of one perfectly sure of himself—one who was no longer trying to appear to be sane. And if he occasionally, at the beginning, showed a trace of nervousness, he was not more nervous than any one might reasonably be whose sanity was under judicial consideration.

He gave his name and told of his birth in Pittsburgh. He said his mother was in court, pointing to Mrs. Mary C. Thaw, as well as to Mrs. George Lauder Carnegie, his sister; Mrs. Benjamin Thaw and Josiah Copley Thaw, his half-brother. The crowd in the courtroom bent forward eagerly to hear, though Thaw was speaking in tones that were audible throughout the chamber. Many women were present—women with strained faces, who watched intently every move the witness made.

Thaw told of the habeas corpus proceedings in his behalf on previous occasions and their futility. Afterward were you examined by physicians and advised that if you obtained your escape from Matteawan by not violating any law you could not be prosecuted," asked Stanchfield.

TELLS OF HIS ESCAPE FROM MATTEAWAN ASYLUM

"I was," replied Thaw, who, continuing, in reply to further questions, said he left Matteawan in an automobile in August, 1913, going to Connecticut, thence to Massachusetts and through New Hampshire to Canada.

"My intention," he said, "was to go to Detroit, Mich., and thence by train to Pittsburgh, having been advised not to cross New York State after once leaving it."

In an animated way, Thaw then told of his travels, of how he was arrested in Canada, later deported, and then again arrested in New Hampshire. A smile now and then swept across his face as he recalled some of his experiences in exile.

"You were brought before a Federal Judge?"

"He was,"

"He appointed a commission to inquire into your sanity?"

"He did."

"They examined you for how long?"

"For more than a month."

Even his slight nervousness had now disappeared, and he was smiling blandly at Dr. Austin Flint and Dr. Carlos McDonald, his old foes, who sat just athwart the witness stand, watching him closely.

"They reported that you were not too dangerous to be allowed at liberty," continued Stanchfield.

"They did," replied Thaw, not smiling this time, but solemnly and in an even voice.

"Acting on that report, the court admitted you to bail?"

"Yes, sir."

Thaw next told how he had lived in the best hotels in Manchester and Concord, finally taking a house in Manchester where he resided until his return to New York.

"During the time you were in Manchester, did another commission, appointed to investigate whether or not you were sane enough to draw checks, examine you?"

"Yes. But I only gave a short examination."

As a result, the Pittsburgh Trust Company honored your checks?"

"Yes."

PLAINLY NETTLED BY COOK'S REFUSAL

This completed the direct examination of Thaw. He was plainly nettled by Cook's refusal to cross-examine him at once, but with admirable self-control, stepped down, and with long strides returned to the counsel table. To regain his seat he had to disturb Dr. McDonald, one of the alienists who has pronounced him a paranoiac.

"Pardon me, gentlemen," said Thaw, smiling sweetly.

the conspiracy trial; Father Luke Evers, one of the chaplains at the Tomb; Rev. John A. Wade, D. Strauss, a Tomb keeper; and Thomas J. Thorpe, another reporter, were called in rapid succession, and all declared Thaw rational.

Mr. Cook announced to-day that he had failed to secure the attendance of Susie Merrell, proprietress of the house at which Thaw is said to have met several women. The loss of her testimony will be a serious blow to the State. It is definitely known that Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw will not appear at the trial.

and a diplomatist, Mr. Lansing is known to his friends as a devoted and successful golfer and fisherman, something of a baseball fan, a skillful landscape painter and a draftsman and possessor of a gift of verse, known to his friends, but not the general public.

The appointment of Mr. Lansing creates a vacancy in the office of counselor of the State Department. It is not expected that any immediate selection will be made, as Chandler Anderson has been specially employed to handle some of the numerous questions the war raised. Mr. Anderson does not desire a permanent appointment. It is considered likely that President Wilson will leave Mr. Lansing the task of selecting his counselor.

Thin Folks Who Would Be Fat

Increase in Weight Ten Pounds or More

A Physician's Advice.

"I'd certainly give most anything to be able to put up a few pounds and stay thin," declares every excessively thin man or woman. This can best be accomplished by eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is a scientific condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood, all the fat and flesh-producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste.

To correct this condition and to produce a healthy normal amount of fat, the nutritive processes must be supplied with the power which nature has denied them. This can best be accomplished by eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is a scientific condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood, all the fat and flesh-producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste.

Caution! While Sargol has produced remarkable results in the treatment of nervous indigestion and general stomach disorders, it should not, owing to its remarkable fat-producing effect, be used by those who are not willing to increase their weight ten pounds or more.

INQUIRY COURT HEARS OF NOCTURNAL VISITS

Midshipman Reagle Had Master Key, Pair of Pliers and Pocket Searchlight.

ROAMED ACADEMY AT WILL

Witnesses Tell of Entering Various Departments in Search of Class Marks and Advance Information on Examination Papers.

ANNAPOLIS, MD., June 23.—The court of inquiry, investigating irregularities in the Naval Academy examination papers, to-day went further into the matter of secret visits by midshipmen to the offices of various heads of departments.

C. M. Reagle, of the former third class, who admitted yesterday that he had roamed through several of the departments with the aid of a master key, a pair of pliers and a pocket searchlight, figured largely in to-day's testimony.

W. D. Jones, a classmate, testified that he had accompanied Reagle on one of the nocturnal expeditions in search of midshipmen's class marks in advance of their being given out. Asked if he had known Reagle to have any other advance information in his possession, Jones said he at one time had seen Reagle with a mechanical drawing which he (Reagle) thought would be a sheet in the next exercises in mechanical drawing. Jones thought Reagle's sums had proved correct.

In answer to another question, Jones said he did not think much of Reagle's integrity and his opinion was shared by the majority of Reagle's company. The same answer was given later by William F. Dietrich of the same class. Dietrich said Reagle was intimate with Nelson, who, with six others, had been recommended for dismissal for making use of advance information on examinations.

A roommate of Reagle, W. H. Hopkins, Jr., testified that he had obtained advance information from Reagle on the last annual English examination. Reagle had told him he gathered the "dope" from other midshipmen, who, he said, had heard since heard from three or four midshipmen that it was reported Reagle had got it from the English department.
